OPENING OF THE NOVEMBER MEETING. & GATHERING OF PROMINENT SCIENTIFIC MEN-PLANS OF THE MEETING - PAPERS AND AD-

DRESSES. The National Academy of Sciences held the first pession of its November meeting yesterday in the chapel of Columbia College. About half the members of the Academy were present. Addresses were made by Professors Henry Draper, of this city; S. H. Sendder, of Cambridge, and Charles S. Peirce, of Washington. The afternoon session was intermitted on account of the presence of Dean Stanley, who met the members at luncheon at Dr. Barnard's

THE MEMBERS AND THE ADDRESSES.

The Fall meeting of the National Academy of Sciences is distinct in nature from the Spring meeting which is always held in Washington; the latter is devoted to the election of officers and other business, while this meeting, which has just begun, is purely for the reading and discussion of papers on scientific subjects. This rule will be departed from, somewhat, at this time, as the morning session of to-day will be given up to a settlement of the claims of the three rival exploring expeditions in the Western Territories. The members of the Academy, in secret accesion, will discuss the best methods of securing thorough and economical work, and their decision will be submitted to the Government at once. At the meeting this afternoon, and at the two ses-Professor J. E. Hilgard, Dr. F. V. Hayden, Professor O. N. Rood, Professors Stephen Alexander, W. P. Trow bridge, Alexander Agassiz, Elias Loomis, H. L. Abbot, Benjamin Alvord, J. S. Newberry, E. D.-Cope, C. A. Young and others. The gramme of the exercises is formidable in its prepor tions, and many of the subjects are couched in the most imposing and technical language. The list includes thirty-three papers, of which only three were disposed of yesterday. Even a mind accustomed to wrestle with brawny mathematical problems, would seem to find some difficulty in crowding thirty able-hodied papers into a day and a built. The result will probably be that half the papers will go over to the next session, or find a place in the printed report of the meetings, like slum, berous speeches of Congressmen of other days, in the official Washington organ.

At any rate, the prospect did not seem to strike terror to the assemblage of about thirty members gathered in the little chapel yesterday morning. It wasn't a large company, but it represented a large lot of science. Upon the platform, in the president's chair was seated Profes sor O. C. Marsh, the palæontologist of Yale College, well known also for his aftempt to apply scientific methods to the settlement of the Indian question. Professor Marsh was the vice-president selected at the April meeting, and now occupies the position of president, made vacant by the sudden death of Professor Joseph attered about the room, in groups have extended beyond the domain of science. spicuous by his venerable appearance was President F. A. P. Barnard, of Columbia College, the academy's foreign secretary. Near him sat Dr. John W. Draper, professor of philosophy in the University of the City of New-York; Quartermaster-General M. C. Meigs, Dr. F. V. Hayden, United States Geowhose exploring expedition has made his name familiar to so many ; Dr. Henry Draper, of Hastings-on-the-Hudson, who has been so successful in the observation of solar celipses, and General Henry is Abbott, U. S. A., now in charge of the torpedo experinents near Willett's Point. Among others present wer Coffin, Mathematician, of the United States Navy; Professor Stephen Alexander, astronomer, of Princeton, N. J.; Edward D. Cope, palmontologist, of Haddonfield, N. J., George Davidson, astronomer, San Francisco, Cal.; Wolcott Gibbs, professor of chemistry, Harvard University; Arnold Guyot, geologist, Princeton, N. DR. HENRY DRAPER'S ADDRESS.

The meeting was called to order at noon by Vice-President Marsh, who made authouncements for the coming sessions. He said that the sessions would last for three days, and would be given up mainly to discussions of entific subjects. He then plunged at once into business by calling upon the first speaker, Dr. Heury Draper, of this city, who read a paper on "The Solar Eclipse of July 27, 1878." His address was as follows:

pess by calling upon the first speaker, Dr. Henry Draper, of this city, who read a paper on "The Solar Eclipse of July 27, 1878." His address was as follows:

As this eclipse promised to be especially interesting, on account of the apparently quiescent condition of the photosphere and chromosphere, it seemed desirable to ascertain what corresponding changes were to be detected in the corona, and thus perhaps obtain clearer ideas of the nature of this remarkable appendage of the sun. The points to which my party directed its attention were: Is the light from the corona from incandescent gas, or is it from clowing liquid or sold bodies, or is it reflected from the sun! In addition we arranged to determine whether the heat of the corona was measurable. Plain photographs were also to be taken with the largest exposure and most sensitive chemicals, so as to have a record of as much of the height of the corona as possible without risk of delusion by sudjective lupressions.

The party consisted, in addition to my wife and myself, of Professor George F. Parker, of the University of Pennsylvania; Professor Henry Morton, president of the Stevens Technological Institute, and Thomas A. Edison, the celebrated electrician. The station selected was Rawlins, Wyoming Territory, which has the advantage of being on the Univ. Pacific Ralinoad, and of being supplied with water brought in wooden pipes from a granite hill toward the north. As it was proposed to use the wet collodion process with neutral silver bath, the usual sakaline and sulphur waters of this region were to be avoided.

After a minute description of the instruments used in the work, Dr. Draper proceeded:

On developing the spectrum photographs immediately after to of allity. I found continuous bands on 'y, with no trace of a ring. It was thus shown that the light was not to any considerable extent from includes on the work, Dr. Draper proceeded:

OTHER PAPERS AND ADDRESSES. Professor Samuel H. Scudder, Entomologist, of Cam-bridge, Mass., whose specialty is Fossil Butterflies, then read a paper on "The Early Types of Insects." He re-viewed the origin and succession of insect life on the dobe, deducing from his observations the conclusion that the laws of succession of the insect tribes are similar to those long known to hold in other groups of the animal kingdom, and that the facts are, in the main, such as he theory of descent demands. The progress of geoogical research within twenty years leads to the conviction of the probable existence and possible discovery in the Devonish and even in the Silurian formations, of Singed insects, still more generalized in structure than suy yet detected in paleozoic rock. Mr. Scudder gave a very technical explanation of inacet progress. Two facts given by him will doubtless be solace to one weary of the inacet peaks in city offices. These were that nearly all the carior inacets were large, many of gigantic size, and that one-half of the Pateozoic inacets were cock-feaches.

and that one-half of the Paicovole insects were cockmaches.

The next address was by Professor Charles S. Peirce, who spoke at length: "On the Acceleration of Gravity at latial Stations." With a well-thumbed note-book in hand, he explained about knife-edges, peadulums; gave observations with the heavy end up," and made equamaches and the blackboard which to the unscientific man would have been as sorry a puzite as one of the other dispatches of "Moses," before it was solved. The speaker seamed thoroughly at home in his subject, and illustrated his remarks by several instruments. During this address Dean Stanley and Cyrus W. Field entered the room. The Dean took a seat near the piatform and listened a moment to the speaker. He didn't seem to find it entertaining, and turned his attention to the biblical picture back of the platform, which he studied with great care therefore, but the property of the room.

The Academy soon after adjourned for limitedon at Dr. Barnard's house.

To-day the morning session at 11 o'clock will be derotted to business.—the discussion of the subject of Westera explorations. At 2 p. m. will be held the public seesion for the reading of papers. In the evening atsection for the reading of papers. In the evening athe o'clock a reception will be given to the members of the Arademy by Dr. Henry Draper at his home, No. 271 Maditon-ave. Th. Draper will explain some of the methods for

RACING AT JEROME PARK.

GOOD SPORT ON A WINTRY DAY.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AND MUCH INTEREST-SIX OUT OF SEVEN FAVORITES BEATEN-SIMOON CAP-TURES TWO PAGES-LOULANIER, BERTHA, KINGS-TON, DAN K. AND DEADHEAD THE OTHER WIN NERS.

The plan which the American Jockey Club adopted last year of giving races on election day has been very successful. In spite of the chilling wind yesterday there was an excellent attendance at Jerome Park, better than on any previous day this year. Many ladies were present, and the cold did not prevent a brave array of them from appearing on the slopes before the club-house. Five four-in-hand coaches came on the grounds with high-stepping horses, jingling harness and winding horns, The owners were August Belmont, and C. A. Baudouine. The racing was full of spirit, variety and interest, and made the occupants of the grand stand forget their cold feet and the discomfort caused by the stinging wind, Only one favorite out of seven won-a very remarkable series of surprises. Nelson & Co.'s mare Simoon was little thought of, and astonished every one by winning two of the races in creditable style. Loulanier and Dan K. had to work hard to win, but the successes of Bertha, Kingston and Deadhead were obtained very easily. The winning owners were G. L. Lorillard, Pierre Lerillard, J. G. Nelson & Co., James W. Beil, and George Bennett &Co. A host of bookmakers shouted the odds and found a multitude of takers, though the throng in front of the grand stand was so dense between the races that men desirous of betting had to do much pushing to reach the professional speculators.

The first race was quickly over. It was three-quarters of a mile, for a purse of $300, with allowances for non-winners. Reed's filly Bounic Wood was withdrawn. vorite. The other starters were P. Lorillard's filly Pique (3 years, 97 pounds), Belmont's mare Susquehauna (4 years, 110 pounds), and Nelson's mare Simoon (4 years, Pique and Dan K, fought for the lead up to the last furlong, when Simoon and Susquebanna gained on them rapidly. Simoon, after a hard run, came in first by a ength, in 1:18, Pique second, Susquebanna a very close third, and Dan K. last. Simoon had been lewest in the betting, odds of fifteen to one being given against her.

each, or $20 if declared out by November 1, with $750 added by the Fifth Avenue, Delmonico and Brunswick Hotels, $100 going to the second horse, only three started out of eleven entries. Dwyer Brothers' Bramble had been expected to run, but was "scratched" Monday evening. The distance was one and three-quarters lanier (3 years, 100 pounds), P. Lorillard a gelding Bayard (3 years, 97 pounds), and Bell's colt Franklin (3 years, 88 pounds). Bayard was a trifle ahead in the betting, but Loulanier was backed almost as heavily. It was an excellent race between the two, Franklin never having any chance of success. The gelding and the filly of the Lorillard brothers got on even terms at the end of the first three-quarters of a mile, and then they ran almost head and head for seven furlongs, the close contest exciting much enthusiasm among the spectators. Bayard tired in the home-stretch, and Loulanter won the hard-fought struggle by half a length in 3:14, Franklin being a long distance behind Bayard. The total value of the stakes was $1,090.

There were five in the third race, a free handicap of one and one-eighth miles, for a purse of $400, presented by G. L. Lorillard. They were I wyer Brothers' gelding Warfield (3 years, 104 pounds), the favorite, Belmont's mare Susquehanna (4 years, 105 pounds), Reed's filly Bonnie Wood (3 years, 102 pounds), P. Lordlard's filly Bortha (3 years, 92 pounds), and Bevins's mare Hattie F. (5 years, 104 pounds). Susquehanna was in front in the first furlong, and then Bertha went to the head, and opened a gap which her rivals were never able to close. Susquehanna, Bonnie Wood, able to close. Susquehanna, Bonnie Wood, and Warfield ran second in turn, but in the final eighth of a mile the only racer that seemed likely to impyll Bertha's success was Warfield. But he could not set nearer her than a length, when she crossed the line in 2:012, an easy victor. Susquehanna was third, two lengths behind Warfield, Hattle F. a poor fourth and Bonnis Wood last. Before the race the betting was three and four to one against Bertha.

The fourth race was a selling race of one mile for a purse of $300. The starters were Pierre Lordhard's fility Pique (3 years, 97 nounds), Puryear's mare Naunie, H. (4 years, 100 pounds). Neison's mare Simoon (4 years, 105 pounds), Graham's horse W. I. Higgins (4 years, 105 pounds), Graham's horse W. I. Higgins (4 years, 105 pounds), Qe's horse Riffe (4 years, 105 pounds), 2 pounds overweight), Babook's filly Jaset Murray (3 years, 100 pounds, 8 pounds overweight), and Wynn's filly Miss Malloy (3 years, 8 pounds). Pique and Nannie H. led in the betting, but all Pique's prospects were ruined by her running away for a mile before the race. The start was a very poor one, Nannie H. getting a great advantage, Higgins belng second and the reat trailing along. Janet Murray being last. Pique never unsde any effort in the race, being tired out by her runway. Nannie H. and Higgins hotly disputed the way for three-quarters of a mile, and then Simoon and Albert challenged them. Though Simoon had her runaway. Nannie H. and Higgins hotiy disputed the way for three-quarters of a mile, and then Simoon and Albert challenged them. Though Simoon had already won one race, her light weight in this one enabled her to exert all her speed, and she outran the others without difficulty, and came in first in 1:48%, Albert two and a haif lengths behind, Higgins a bad third, Nannie H. fourth, Hilde fifth, Miss Malloy sixth, Janet Murray seventh and Pique leste. Simoon was entered to be sold at $300. The bidding on her went up third, Nannie H. fourth. Hills fifth, Miss Malloy sixth, Janet Murray seventh and Pique leste. Simoon was entered to be sold at $300. The hidding on her went up to $350 at which Nelson & Co. bought her in.

In the fifth race G. L. Lorillard's coit Startle (two years, 110 pounds) and Nelson's gelding Kingston (two years, 100 pounds) and Nelson's gelding Kingston (two years, 100 pounds) ran three-quarters of a mile for a purse of $300. Startle was a great havorite, at odds of $100 to $30. They were an indifferent pair, with little to choose between them. The ten pounds difference in weight settled the matter, Kingston winning with hardly an effort, in 1:21, Startle three lengths behind. Startle led half the way, and then Kingston swiftly passed him. Four racers that are very feet at short distances contested the sixth race of half a mile for a purse of $300, presented by Pierre Lorillard. They were Dwyer Brothers' gelding Worfield (three years, 107 pounds); Reed's filly Bonnie Wood (three years, 107 pounds); Reed's filly Bonnie Wood (three years, 107 pounds); Reed's filly Bonnie Wood (three years, 107 pounds); After considerable delay the four yernas, 115 pounds). After considerable delay the four yernas, and every musele strained to its greatest tension, shot over the short space to the goal. When the race was half run it was plain that victory would be gained, either by Dan K. or La Belle Helene, as the others lagged a little. Dan K. proved the numbler of the two, and won by three-quarters' of a length in fifty seconds, La Belle Helene second, Bonnie Wood third, and Warffeld last. La Belle Helene had been the favorite in the betting, with Warffeld second choice. Five lumpers took part in the handreap steeplechase over the usual course for a purse of $700, $150 going to the second horse, and $50 to the third. They were George Remuett & Co.'s gelding Desabead (aged, 156 pounds), second choice; Callahan's gelding Patriot (5 years, 158 pounds). The start was very unfortunate. Only two of the riders, those of Deadhe

WASHINGTON.

THE KID GLOVE APPEAL. NO REPORT PREPARED AS YET. IGENERAL PRESS DISPATCH.1

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 .- Assistant Secretary of the Treasury French has not yet framed his report on the kid glove question, recently referred to him by the Secretary of the Treasury. The main points directly under consideration, as involved in the appeal of the importers, are, whether the appraisement was irregular, and if so whether the remedy is such as was recently suggested by the legal rep resentatives of the merchants, namely, to refer the question of duties back to the former appraisers. In this, however, there might be some difficulty, as the gloves, excepting the samples, have already passed into consumption. As the law and the regulations of the department define the mode of ap praisement, it is not considered within the province of the Secretary to set it aside and substitute new rates; and further, should there be a denial of the suggestion of the merchants to review the appraisement in the manner suggested, with a view of determining the true valuation, the question will necessarily go to the Federal Courts for adjudication. Nothing, however, has yet been promulgated in advance of the preparation of Judge French a report. French's report.

THE SILVER OUESTION REVIVING. THE PRESIDENT TO RECOMMEND NEW LEGISLATION.

[GENERAL PRESS DISPATCH.]

Washington, Nov. 5 .- The Cabinet was in ses sion not more than an hour to-day. Attorney-General Devens and Secretary Evarts were absent. The State Department was represented by Assistant Secretary Seward. There was a general conversation regarding the points to be brought to the attention of Congress in the President's annual mes-

It was unanimously agreed that the message should contain some recommendation for the enactment of legislation, either to increase the weight of the standard silver dollar, or to limit its coinage, or to adopt both of these means of preventing further depreciation of its value. The subject will be again sidered at a future inceting of the Cabinet.

SHERMAN ON THE INDIAN FIGHTING. HE ACQUITS COLONEL MILES OF BLAME-GOOD RE SULTS ATTAINED. [GENERAL PRESS DISPATCH.]

Washington, Nov. 5 .- The attention of General Sacruman having to-day been called to the statement of alleged erucity of Colonel Miles toward the Bannack Indians after they had proposed to surrender, the General said he had received no news about the matter, but Colonel Miles was a good and trusted officer, and had, no doubt, acted properly under the circumstances, well-knowing the deceitful character and purposes of these Indians, who, after committing all the rages of which they were capable, proposed to pur-se immunity by a proposition to surrender. He did believe that Colonel Miles would do anything deptnot believe that Colonel Miles would do anything derimental to his character as a soldier, or would fail to discitance his duty fulthfully under any circumstances. The General expresses much gratification with the season's campatina against the hostile roying bands of Indians, all of which having been brought into subjection, some promptly punished, others restored or driven to their reservations; and some of them held either by the military or the civil courts for trual. He considers it especially gratifying that the army on the frontiers, comparatively small, has accomplished such satisfactory results in such extensive sections of territory, General Howard's operations atone extending over 2,000 miles.

EVADING POSTAGE. POSTMASTER-GENERAL KEY MAKES AN IMPORTANT

Washington, Nov. 5 .- The Postmaster-General to-day rendered a decision of some general interest, in the case of a Boston publisher who has claimed a right to distribute to Boston subscribers his periodical, by sending copies to a news agent in Brookline to be by him mailed to subscribers in the city, at the pound rates of pestage. Judge Key decides that this is a wholly in evasion of the law, which prescribes local rates of either 1 cent or 2 cents upon each news-payer or periodical that is published and distributed in a city provided with letter-carriers. The same ruling will be applied to business circulars, of watch many thousands are understood to be distributed in the large cities, after escaping payment of the proper rate of pastage by the same ingenious evasion of carrying them to be mailed from some closely neighboring post office

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

THE FALL ATHLETIC SPORTS.

Notwithstanding yesterday's cold weather about 500 people gathered at the grounds of the New-York Athletic Club at Mott Haven, to witness the clos-ing handicap games of 1878. There were not as many adies present as usual. The first race was called at 1:15. It was a 100-yard run, and there were twenty-three entries ; it was divided into five trial heats, the winners of the respective heats to run over. The victor in the first heat was J. C. Wray, in 10% seconds; second heat H. M. Moore, in 10% seconds; third heat, M. H. Burch, in 10% seconds; fourth heat, H. P. Pike, in 10% seconds; fifth heat, W. C. Hall, in 10% seconds; who also wen the final heat in 10% seconds. The second event was a one mile walk. In this contest there were twenty-eight entries. W. R. Whitmore, of the New-York Athletic Club, won in 2 minutes 12% seconds. An individual tog of war came next. There were four entries, but only two of the men appeared. These were W. B. Curtis, of the New-York Athletic Club, and C. A. J. Queekberner, of the Scottish-American Athletic Club. Curtis had everything his own way after a short time because his opponent hurt his hand in the beginning of the pull. In the two mile walk there were twenty-four entries. G. A. Vanderhoff, it, of Astoria, came in first, walking the distance in 16 minutes 23 seconds. The winner of each race was presented with a gold medal. heat was J. C. Wray, in 10% seconds; second heat H.

THE WILLIAMSONS BACK AGAIN. After a separation of several months from the New-York public, the Williamsons met with a hearty reception Monday evening at the Grand Opera House, where they reappeared in their specialties of "Struck Oil" and Clay M. Greene's laughable farce that in its own absurd way settles " The Chinese Question." The comfortable and commodious play-house was well The comfortable and commodious play-bouse was well filled from orchestra to dome. Some of the actors in the cast, at times, found the acting of the Williamsons as irresistibly funny as did the laughing andience. One of the raw recruits wore a broad grin throughout the drill scene. "Struck Oll" has been condensed since it was first produced at the Union Square a little more than a year and Angele Moore's singing and roguishness and nimble feet are as effective as ever to stir laughter and applicable. Besides the laughing song, which always produces a great effect two or three new airs were introduced.

DOMESTIC MISSIONS OF THE M. E. CHURCH, The Methodist General Missionary Committee continued in session yesterday, and discussed the amounts to be appropriated to the work of Domes tic Missions in various parts of this country. The allotments to the various Conferences were the same as, or Bishop Haven, Dr. Curry, Dr. Kittell, and Messers. Frice and Manker took part in this. Mr. Price thought that the Northern Methodists had no right to go to the South to extend the Church of "St. John Wester" when there was a Church there of the same kind. Dr. Curry referred to the deep differences between the two branches of the Church, and thought there should be both. Bishop Haven said that as there was a solid South trying to reconquer the Union a Church which brayed for the President, and in which the white and colored members meet logatier, should be supported. In round numbers $80,000 was appropriated yesterday. The meeting will us in session to-day, beginning at 9 a. m.

left his house on Friday morning and came into the city, intending to collect some rents and pay his taxes. He had about $900 in bank notes on his person at the time. A large audience attended the meeting of the New-York Historical Society last night.

Martha J. Lamb read an interesting paper entitled, "Lyon Gardiner, the founder of the first English settlement in the State of New-York." Mrs. Lamb was received very corduity, and the reading of her paper was heard with close attention. Judge Donohae, in Supreme Court, Cham bers, granted yester sy an alternative mandamus in the proceeding of William R. Roberts against the Board of ssessors. Mr. Roberts claims that he is entitled to dam, ages on property between One-hundred-and-twelfth and One-hundred and-fourteenth-sta, on account of the clos-ing of the Bloomingdale Boad. The Rev. Ebenezer Wiggins died suddenly of apoplexy yesterday morning in his room at the St. Charles Hotel, at 648 Broadway, where he had been bearding. He came down to breakfast at 6 o'clock and seemed to be in his asual health and spirits. A little later a servant passed his room, the door of which was open, and saw Mr. Wiggins lying on the floor dead. A "School for the study of local life charcter," is one of the most successful of Brocklyn's fine art ventures. It is attended by both ladies and gentleen, amateurs and professionals. The work is done in oil, water-color, chalk and lead-pencil. New rooms have been arranged this Fall in the Brooklyn Art Building, in Montagne-st., with an improved system of lighting.

On the night of September 17 the apartsents occupied by William Rath, at No. 125 Greene-st., on the first floor, were entered, and goods to the amount of $2,000 taken. The police on Saturday night arrested William Remord and Charles Chambers on suspicion of complicity in the burgiary. A prisoner now detained in the Tombs has become State's evidence against the ac-cused men, and Justice Kilbreth committed each in de-fault of $2,000 ball.

Sarah Sheehan and Margaret Murphy, of No. 249 West Twenty-seventh-st., were arraigned before Justice Otterbourg, at the Jefferson Market Police Court, yesterday morning, charged with garroting and robbing Caroline Emerson, of the same place, of a gold watch, chain and .ocket. It appears that Caroline Emerson was passing through the hallway when the two women selzed her and stole the property. An officer hearing the cries of the woman, hastened to the spot and espirated the thieves. The locket and chain were recovered, but the watch had in some mysterious manner disappeared The Judge held the two prisoners, in default of $1,00

A vat in the works of the Brooklyn Roofing Company, at Smith and Sixth-sts., exploded with a loud report at 4 a. m. yesterday. John Wosdale, who was employed in the works, was blown a considerable dis-tance by the force of the explosion, and in addition to severe burns on the face and hands, had one leg broken. NEWARK.

Samuel Baidwin, jr., died at his residence, No. 687 Broad-st., yesterday morning, in his nin ty-first year. He was formerly a merchant, was never married, took no part in public affairs, and was born on the place where he died. Mr. Baidwin was always known as Samuel Baidwin, ir., his uncle, Samuel Baidwin, sr., iving until he was ninety-six years old, in 1850, and Mr. Baidwin clinging to the "jr." all his life. His rather lived until he was over eighty years old, and the three younger brothers of the deceased man are all over seventy-five years old.

The Winter term of the Essex County

seventy-five years old.

The Winter term of the Essex County Courts will begin on Tuesday, December 3. Yesterday Sheriff Harrison drew the panel of sixty-six petit jurors to serve for the term. The grand jurors will not be drawn until a short time before the opening of the term, and will be drawn by the sheriff elected yesterday. Among the most important cases to be tried is that of Colonel Henry L. Poiter, of Linden, who is indicted for perjury in swearing faisely in regard to an alleged forged receipt on a bond.
